

NorthWest Arkansas Community College
Business & Computer Information Systems Division
Business Department Course Outline

TRLG 2053 International Logistics (On Demand)

Catalog Description:

This course focuses on the international transportation of goods. We will cover import/export regulations, modes of transportation, security, and documentation. Upon completion of this course, students should have an understanding of how the different aspects of international transportation affect the global supply chain.

Prerequisite:

None

Credit Hours/Contact Hours/Load Hours:

3/3/3

Target Audience:

This course is for students interested in logistics management and is designed for students seeking the AAS Degree in Business Management with the logistics management option. This course WILL NOT transfer to the Walton College of Business and might not transfer to other 4-year institutions.

Student Learning Outcomes:

Students completing this course will:

- Understand the international transportation network
- Be able to explain why we trade internationally and how we benefit from trade
- Have an understanding of global transportation routes and terms
- Understand the basics of doing business overseas and getting product moved from one country to another

Topics:

- Domestic and global supply chains
- Advantages and disadvantages of global supply chains
- Global transportation routes and terms
- Differences in domestic and overseas business
- Moving product internationally

Forms of Assessment:

Discussions, assignments, exams, and quizzes

Rev. 7/2019