* In order to receive credit for ART 1313 & ART 2833, students must submit a sample of their final project from the corresponding high school course to the Dean of Communications & Arts. After the project is approved by the Dean, the student can move forward meeting the rest of the requirements for the articulated credit.

 The articulated courses CHED 1003 and CHED 2003 can be used for the AAS degree but would not meet the requirements for the state's Birth to Pre-K credential because those courses have to be taken on campus.
